EDITORIAL

Welcome to Paris and to the first grand slam of 2025!

It is apt that our first grand slam of the season brings us back to Paris after such an incredible summer spent in the French capital crowning our new Olympic champions. Paris holds a special place in the hearts of judoka the world over but the memories made just a few months ago will stay with us forever; the bar has risen yet again.

Paris is always a catalyst, producing the highest level of judo, the biggest cheers and is an event that serves as a showcase for multi-generational judo, pointing all young judoka in the right direction, towards the glittering careers ahead of them. This 51st edition of the Paris Grand Slam will deliver inspiration and excellence in equal measure and we are so proud of both its presence and its legacy. The judo family is invited, as always, to be part of this world leading sporting spectacle, a tournament not to be missed!

We send a big thank you to the France Judo and President Stéphane Nomis for their dedication to always providing the highest standard of organisation. We know our sponsors, partners, friends, past champions and media colleagues will be welcomed in the best possible way, ready to experience the brilliance of the Paris Grand Slam.

Yours in judo

Marius VIZER
President International Judo Federation

EDITORIAL

Dear Judo Family,

It is with immense pride and great enthusiasm that I welcome you to this new edition of the Paris Grand Slam. This prestigious event, which showcases both French and global judo, is much more than just a competition; it is a celebration of excellence, respect, and passion that drives our sport.

The Paris Grand Slam 2025 takes on a special significance as we continue to ride the momentum of the Paris 2024 Olympic & Paralympic Games. This event has not only strengthened judo's place in the hearts of the French people, but has also demonstrated to the world the incredible fervour and dedication of our country to the values of sport. For two days, the world's greatest judokas will be on the tatamis of the Accor Hotels Arena, representing hard work, sacrifice, and dreams. They are not just competitors; they are role models for our young judokas and ambassadors of this martial art, which, beyond medals, teaches us to become better.

I would like to extend my heartfelt thanks to everyone who makes this event possible: the dedicated volunteers, referees, coaches, and our institutional and private partners, without whom the Paris Grand Slam would not reach such a level of excellence. I would also like to offer special thanks to the International Judo Federation and its President, Mr Marius Vizer, for their trust in organizing of this event.

This 2025 edition is also an opportunity to reaffirm our commitment to an inclusive judo, accessible to all, and deeply rooted in respect for others. As the judokas engage in intense battles, they will remind us that the true spirit of judo lies in the ability to learn from each fight, whether on the tatami or in real life.

Together, let's make the Paris Grand Slam 2025 a truly unforgettable celebration of judo and all its values.

Thank you all for keeping this passion alive, and I look forward to seeing you on the tatamis!

Sportivement,

Stéphane NOMIS
President of France Judo

NEW RULES EXPLAINED

As after every Olympiad, and following a wide consultation by the International Judo Federation, the global judo refereeing rules are evolving for the 2025-2028 period. These will take effect for the first time at the Paris Grand Slam 2025.

Technical changes to the referee rules are as follows:

- ✓ Addition of a third score yuko, in ne-waza it will be given at 5 seconds.
- ✓ Use of head to throw and defend allowed except in cadet events where it will be penalised with shido.
- ✓ All jacket grips and gripping under the belt to the level of the top of the inner thigh are allowed but shido will be given if using the jacket grip or under the belt to the level of the top of the inner thighs grip negatively.
- ✓ Hooking the legs with the hand or arm, leg grabbing, gripping the trousers and touching the leg from the top of the inner thigh down is forbidden and will be penalised with shido.
- ✓ Kumi-kata will be given 30 secs time for an attack.
- ✓ Bear hug in tachi-waza is allowed except with hands or hands and arms clasped, forming a circle which will be penalised with shido.
- ✓ Unintentionally leaving the contest area in tachi-waza and ne-waza will be given "Mate!"
- ✓ Kansetsu-waza applied while performing throws, with high injury risks (where uke cannot escape), will be penalised with hansoku-make. For kansetsu-waza applied with techniques, with lower injury risks (where uke has the possibility to escape), performed with two hands on one arm, it will be "Mate!" and "Shido!"
- ✓ Positive activity in ne-waza will be taken in consideration.
- ✓ Reverse seoi-nage is allowed except in cadet events where it will be penalised with shido.
